Prefatory Note.

Amherst College already has the Quinquennial Catalogue, the Annual and the List of living alumni.* These are standards of reference which the heirs of the College must have for frequent consultation. But heretofore there has never been a complete list of all persons who ever were connected with the institution as students or recipients of her honors, save the Septuagintennial Catalogue, which was issued in 1892. That issue which covers about five-sixths of the total number, is now without the membership of the last ten years.

At the last meeting of the Trustees of the College they directed the publication of the names of all the eighty classes of six thousand four hundred and four students, and of the two hundred and eighty-one men upon whom honorary degrees have been conferred in the whole history of the college.

This completes the list and includes the total membership of its existence by classes, as well as an index of the whole.

This catalogue is not in demand by every alumnus or mere friends and patrons of the College, who are satisfied by the Quinquennial and Annual issue, but this one will be of great service for ready reference by the Faculty of the College, the college organizations and fraternities, historic and genealogical workers, and the compilers of encyclopaedias and the ever present newspaper and magazine reporter and editor.

Although this brochure is an Octogintennial, 1821-1902, it will also include the class of 1902 as a supplement, thus giving this class a representation, as the eighty-first class. And this class is included in the index.
